Gallipoli Seized in Effort to Cut Off Turkish Reinforcements—British Occupy Whole Sea Front With Two Armies.

ATHENS, April 30.—Reports here indicate that the occupation of the sea side of the Gallipoli Peninsula by the allies is practically complete. The British forces on the European side have defeated with heavy losses every attempt by the Turks to turn them back on their ships. The casualties among the Turks killed and wounded number from 5,000 to 8,000, and many prisoners have been made.

The troops landed at Enez are driving strong forces of Turks before them, and have advanced at least eight miles. Reports from Tenedos tell of the seizure of the town of Gallipoli, twelve miles from the Narrows and twenty-five miles from the mouth of the straits.

The British have entrenched their various bases and are slowly feeling out the fortified positions along the peninsula. The heaviest fighting has taken place in the territory between Cape Suvla and the southern extremity of the peninsula. There the Turks had strongly entrenched themselves utilizing entanglements and machine guns, but the big guns of the warships smashed the traps and opened the way for the British advance.

On the Asiatic side the French troops are progressing along the line planned and in every way are cooperating with the British.

Following the all-day bombardment Wednesday of the forts heavier steps of the allied fleet remained in the Straits all night and resumed the bombardment Thursday. It is stated that a number of the Turkish batteries in the vicinity of Karantina have been silenced.

LESS MEAT IF BACK AND KIDNEYS HURT

Take a glass of Salts to flush Kidneys if Bladder bothers you.

Before most regularly eventually produce kidney trouble in some form or other, says a well-known authority, because the uric acid in most excreta the kidneys, they become overworked; retarding; clog up and cause all sorts of diseases, particularly backache and migraines in the kidney region; rheumatic twinges, severe headache, acid stomach, constipation, torpid liver, sleeplessness, bladder and urinary irritation.

The moment your back hurts or kidneys aren't acting right, or if bladder bothers you, get about four ounces of Jod Salts from any good pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then set free. This famous salt, made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity; also to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jod Salts cannot injure anyone; make a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then to keep the kidneys and urinary organs clean, thus avoiding serious kidney disease. Advt.

Having workrooms on premises, we give you style and individuality that "ordinary" ready-to-wear garments lack—at manufacturers' prices.

GENTEEL BANDITS STEAL $3,000 AUTO IN CENTRAL PARK

Owner Tells How Daring Robbers Pressed Automatics to His Back.

GIRL TRIED TO HELP.

Witnessed Holdup From Window and Tried in Vain to Give Aid.

Walter Meyer, Treasurer of the Hudson Products Company, No. 44 East Twenty-third Street, took a young lady and her brother to the review of the Twenty-second Regiment last evening in his $3,000 auto. Afterward he drove them to their home in the Catherine Apartments, No. 1 West Fifty-ninth Street, remaining there till 11 o'clock, when he told the young woman, who went to his car, which was standing at the southwest corner of sixty-ninth Street and Central Park West.

He climbed into the machine and started the engine. At a window in the Catherine stood the young woman, waving a farewell. Three men were standing in front of the Catherine. Two of them suddenly ran over to the Meyer automobile and one sprang to the seat alongside the driver while the other got into the tonneau. Meyer doesn't know what became of the third.

"Move over, young fellow, we want to see you," exclaimed No. 1, displaying an automatic. Here he shoved Meyer out of the driver's seat and started the car ahead, while No. 2 crouched in the tonneau and held a pistol against the young man's shoulderblades.

"What's the matter, Walley?" called the young woman in the Catherine. Meyer didn't dare reply. The car shot into Central Park West and turned north.

"Keep quiet, old boy, and we won't hurt you," said "Gentleman Hand" No. 1 as he put his automatic in his pocket and used both hands on the wheel, while No. 2 kept the barrel against Meyer's shoulderblades.

Meanwhile the young woman had sent a halloo out to make an investigation, but he made instead for the basement and stayed there. When the automobile was in the Seventies Meyer saw that Bandit No. 1 didn't know much about an automobile. He had shoved the clutch into reverse after having it in first speed.

"Say," said the owner, "I just had you to car overhauled, and I don't want you to ruin it. Let me drive." He was told to "shut up" and he did. They turned into the park at Ninetieth Street and Meyer mustered up enough courage to ask the robbers if he might feel in his pockets for a cigarette.

"Don't bother," was the reply. "Here's one." He refused it. They stopped the car several blocks inside the park, said Meyer to an Evening World reporter to-day. "The fellow who was driving told me to get out. Then he apologized for having to steal the car, saying he and his pal needed it badly. Then I walked to the West One Hundredth Street Station."

ARMENIAN CHRISTIANS FALL IN NEW MASSACRE

Kurds Resuming Attacks Are Butchering People in Whole District of Lake Van.

JULFA, Transcaucasia, April 29 (via Petrograd and London, April 30).—A renewal of the recent massacre of Christians in Armenia is now in progress in the whole district of Lake Van.

Conflicts between the Armenians and the Kurds are daily becoming more furious. An exceptionally fierce engagement is occurring to-day at Shatash.

Fighting between the Kurds and Armenians has been going on for several weeks, according to recent despatches from Transcaucasia. In the center of the Lake Van district is the town of Van, an important seat of American missions.

ROOSEVELT HIT WHEN DECISION BOTTLES UP HIS STAR WITNESSES

Governor before midnight but that none had been received.

Harvey D. Hinman, champion of Gov. Hughes's reform measures in the State Senate, was first on the witness stand to-day. He tried to tell something about the election of a Democratic United States Senator in 1911 to sustain the testimony of William Loeb Jr., that Barnes had agreed with Murphy to keep his hands off the Democratic reform.

Mr. Hinman's testimony got through the wire entanglements of Mr. Ivins's objections.

The Colonel's lawyers then led Mr. Hinman to the legislative contest over direct primary bills in 1910 which Barnes defeated by combination with Democrats.

JUSTICE ANDREWS PUTS THE BRAKES ON.

Here again Justice Andrews tightened the noose and slowly strangled the life out of the Colonel's charges of wicked corruption. "You can prove," said the court, "combination between Democrats and Republicans; (Barnes) said. But does it add anything to say that the President and the Governor were in favor of the bill or that a Senator should have voted the way they thought he should. I ain't even prima facie evidence. I sustain the objection."

Every attempt to bring Gov. Hughes and his attitude toward direct primary legislation was ruled out. The court would not even let witness say that Gov. Hughes favored the bill. Practically all that Senator Hinman was allowed to testify to was the bare record of proceedings in the Senate. When asked whether he had a conversation later with Col. Roosevelt on this subject the court cut him off on the ground that the Colonel himself had testified fully on this point.

After more than an hour of struggling to get the witness past the objections of opposing counsel and rulings of the Court the Colonel's lawyers gave up the effort and Mr. Ivins began cross-examining.

Young Men's Republican Club. He said:

"Mr. Barnes sent for me in December, 1911, to come to Republican headquarters in New York to discuss direct primaries. He said he was opposed to the Hinman-Green bill, and that the attitude of the club favoring the bill was all wrong. He said legislation of this character was not practical, as it exposed the candidate to too much publicity. Two campaigns, he said, put candidates in the limelight, and he could ruin the reputation of any man by throwing on enough innuendo."

"He said he could show how foolish was the whole proposition. He could get the rift of Democrats in New York to vote in Albany primaries and Republicans of Albany to vote in New York primaries; that he could name such rotten candidates that it would disgust the people with the whole proposition."

Barnes snorted disgust during the recital and the cross-examination was brief.

In the palmy days of the Metropolitan Street Railway bubble in New York City contributions were made out of its treasury to Tammany and the Republican State machine alike.

One of these was revealed during the Grand Jury investigation conducted by District Attorney Jerome. The Metropolitan Securities Company gave $20,000 to Lemuel E. Quigg to hand to the City State Committee and $15,000 for Tammany.

VREELAND'S TESTIMONY IS ALSO RULED OUT.

H. H. Vreeland who was President of the Securities Company was called to the stand to tell about this as tending to prove his corruption. His testimony of corruption but the court shut him out of his evidence. The Colonel got much excited during argument of counsel made numerous suggestions to his lawyers and strove mightily to get the evidence over the bumps.

Justice Andrews asked: "Are you going to prove to these contributions were made to the two parties under agreement for protection and that Mr. Barnes had knowledge of them? Have you any proof that Mr. Barnes knew the company was giving to the Democrats?"

The lawyers were obliged to admit that they had none, so the Court finally ruled that the testimony of Vreeland could be admitted, because Mr. Barnes was Chairman of the Executive Committee in 1907 when the specific donation was made.

"In that year," said Mr. Ivins, "George W. Dunn was Chairman of the State Committee and Gov. Odell and Senator Platt were running things. Mr. Barnes was Chairman of the Executive Committee, but he was virtually only an office boy looking after correspondence."

After an hour of argument, Mr. Vreeland was asked: "Did the Metropolitan Securities Company contribute to the Republican State Committee in 1907?"

"Yes, $20,000," was the answer. "The money was given to Lemuel E. Quigg to go to the Republican Committee."

"Did you ever give any money or contribution directly or indirectly to Mr. Barnes?" asked Mr. Ivins.

"No," replied Mr. Vreeland. "I don't know the gentleman—I never met him."

Court will adjourn this afternoon until Monday when the Committee will rule on the testimony of Mr. Barnes up to stand on connecting Mr. Barnes up with State printing ring scandals in Albany.

COLLIER AND TRAWLER SUNK BY SUBMARINE

Losses of Both Victims of German Submarine Raider Are Saved.

LONDON, April 30. (Associated Press.)—The British steamship Collier and the trawler Mermaid were sunk by a German submarine off the coast of Lewis, North Scotland, was identified to-day as the British collier Mermaid.

The trawler Mermaid was also sunk by a submarine.

The Mermaid's crew of twenty-three men was landed today. The officers said that the sinking of the Mermaid took place Wednesday. The crew was given ten minutes to take to the boats and drifted about for nine hours before reaching land.

The Collier was torpedoed off Tyne. Her crew was saved.

ZEPPELIN HURLS BOMBS AS IT PURSUES TRAIN

Missiles All Go Wide, but Others Fire Houses in English Coast Towns.

IPSWICH, England, April 30.—There was a neck and neck race, it was learned to-day, between a train and the Zeppelin which attacked this and other coast cities last night, the crew of the aircraft trying to drop bombs on the train. Five were thrown but all went wide.

Other bombs fired a number of houses in Ipswich and Bury St. Edmunds, but no one was injured, though bombs demolished several rooms in which children were sleeping.

The Zeppelin escaped to sea in a fog.

MYSTERY IN WOMAN'S DEATH AT LENOX OVAL

Men in Nearby Hotel Vanish When They Hear News—May Be Murder.

The body of a well-dressed young woman, who had been dead only a few hours, was found to-day in a room, dressing room under the grand stand in Lenox Oval, an athletic field bounded by Lenox and Seventh Avenues and One Hundred and Forty-fourth and One Hundred and Forty-fifth Streets.

From the first examination the police decided that the woman died of natural causes, but there are features about the case which indicate it may be a murder mystery.

Near the grand stand is an entrance to a hotel called the Dolphin, where there is dancing every night.

William Disbrow, caretaker, says he locked up all the entrances last night. Jimmy Dooley, sixteen, who opened the grounds for Disbrow to-day and found the body, says that the gates were locked when he arrived.

Detectives closely questioned young Dooley this afternoon and learned from him that he first saw the woman, alive, about a week ago. She was wearing a dark dress, he said, and said she wanted to rest and he led her to the room where he later found her dead. As soon as Dooley reported in the Dolphin Hotel that a woman was dead in the Oval two men who had been at the hotel all night disappeared.

BRITISH LOSS IN OFFICERS 6,227 SINCE WAR BEGAN

One Regiment of Engineers Had Three Killed and Eight Wounded.

LONDON, April 29. (correspondence of the Associated Press).—An officers' casualty list for the fortnight ended April 29, shows that the British army lost 45 officers killed and 110 wounded. A total of 156 during the fortnight. The casualties in only one regiment exceeded double figures—namely the Royal Engineers—which had three killed and eight wounded.

Since the beginning of the war 1,961 officers have been killed, 3,528 wounded and 738 are reported missing, bringing the total up to 6,227.

NEW DRIVE IN RUSSIA BY GERMAN TROOPS

Aim Now Is to Raid the Baltic Provinces for Food Supplies.

PETROGRAD, April 30. (Associated Press).—A general German offensive movement once more is under way along the entire Prussian border from Tilsit to the Vistula River.

The German advance this time evidently is aimed at the Baltic provinces, which are rich in crops and other food supplies.

From Polangen, a town in the Baltic province of Courland, it was reported to-day that German portuliers were preparing to raid the contemplated advance of the land forces.

CANADA READY TO SEND 150,000 MEN AND MORE IF ALLIES NEED THEM.

OTTAWA, Ont., April 30.—Though there has been no official announcement as to the number of men Canada will send to swell the ranks of the allies, it is understood that, according to present plans, 150,000 men will be sent to the front line, and more if Lord Kitchener needs them.

Instead of sending the men over in batches as reinforcements when required, the third and fourth contingents, it is believed, will be mobilized and sent forward earlier than was at first intended.

DIED.

BUEHLER.—On Thursday, April 29, 1915, CHRISTIAN BUEHLER, beloved husband of Louise Buehler, in his 57th year. Funeral services at his late residence, 158 Waverly St., Brooklyn, Saturday, at 8 P. M. Relatives and friends are respectfully invited to attend. Interment Evergreen Cemetery.
